November 2008 Newsletter

It's time to welcome November! We are all excited about falling leaves, turkeys and trimmings, pilgrims and Indians and other wonderful "November things".

With falling leaves comes the season of cold weather. Just a simple reminder to the parents to please dress your children appropriately for the season. It's a given fact that as the cold season starts, the children are more likely prone to catch colds and flu that is why as a starting activity for this month, the children will be exposed to the story "The Adventures of Squeaky and Sully". This story will surely help them stay away from getting sick. They will be encouraged to become "germ-busters" in school, at home and everywhere.

The children have been doing a good job with our Letter People lessons. We shall have more activities to reinforce mastery of these letters (V,U,X,L and J) as they explore the environment in order to know more about the Fall Season and Thanksgiving. They shall be doing a lot of Fall activities like nature walk, graphing and charting leaves, and making Fall decors. November won't get done without having Thanksgiving activities. The children will be doing "thanksgiving things" to surprise you on our Thanksgiving Luncheon Party which will be on the 25th, Tuesday.

Happy November and Happy Thanksgiving to all!
