(Week 3 of November)

A Peek at the Week

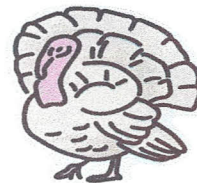

This week's lesson focuses on letter Jj. The children are up and on the go digging up for words that start with Jj like jet, jigsaw, jam, jacket, jewel, joke, jog, jug, jelly and many more. Since the older ones in class have acquired a good mastery of all the sounds of the phonemes, they have been so quick to spell all the words that we are trying to learn. The younger ones in class are surely benefiting a lot because this is a good start for them to learn the letter sounds. After every oral lesson, the children do a writing activity. Aside from learning how to write the letter of the week, some of our friends are learning to write their names- Christopher Brigdes and Aidan Martin are doing their very best in tracing their names. Sharise Ruffin, Logan Giles and Ethan Jacobs are still into learning how to get a good grip of their pens and crayons. They're doing a good job, too. Alongside with our lesson on Jj, we are also having a discussion about Thanksgiving Day. Miss M, the Language teacher, has been talking about why we are celebrating Thanksgiving. The children are surely busy preparing for the upcoming Thanksgiving Party. Parents will get a surprise from the children on this day.

Looking Ahead

Next week is our weeklong celebration of Thanksgiving. We won't be studying any letter but we will be making some crafts related to Thanksgiving. They will also be enjoying games and songs about turkeys.

Reminders

1. The Thanksgiving Party will be on Tuesday, Nov. 25th.
Please come and join us.
2. Our center will be closed on Thursday-Friday (Thanksgiving Holidays) and will open on Monday, Dec. 1st
3. Please dress your children appropriately for the winter season.

Happy Thanksgiving to All!
